PRESS RELEASE

7th Internet Pavillon opens at the Venice Biennale with "AIIA: Assange is Internet Internet is Assange", a project by DiEM25 member Miltos Manetas

Renowned Greek painter and multimedia artist Miltos Manetas will hand out 222 painted portraits of Julian Assange, in addition to NFTs, at the International Art Exhibition of the Venice Biennale between April 19th and April 25th. The action is supported by the Democracy in Europe Movement 2025 (DiEM25).

The project, titled "AIIA: Assange is Internet Internet is Assange", is the centrepiece of the 7th edition of the Internet Pavilion, which was created by Manetas together with curator Jan Aman and saw its first edition at the 2009 Venice Biennale.

The 222 paintings match the number of days of the Biennale, which opens on April 23rd and closes on November 27th. Manetas will be handing out the artworks free of charge at the Navy Officer's Club between 12:00 and 18:00. Special NFTs will also be distributed by the artist.

Miltos Manetas said:

"I dedicate this 7th Internet Pavilion to Julian Assange, because thanks to NFTs he cannot be erased or silenced – the blockchain exists and everything that happens can be recorded there. Destroying his body doesn't destroy his spirit or our spirit. We are free to join the Venice Biennale during these 222 days, but Assange will be imprisoned."

Alongside DiEM25, the 7th Internet Pavilion has been made possible thanks to Lightbox, Galleria Valentina Bonomo, HYPERURANIUM.io and the support of Gran (Media) Tour.

DiEM25 is a pan-European movement of democrats, united under the conviction that the EU will only survive if it is radically transformed. The environmental, economic and coronavirus crisis have shown what real solutions for the majority and not the minority can only come about if we join forces across borders. This is the mission of DiEM25: through a coordinated effort, across Europe, to unite citizens and create enough energy to save the EU from itself.
